

Family Exhibit Paintings at P. V. Gallery

An exhibition of paintings, drawings and prints of unusual interest because everything to be shown is the work of members of one family, Tom Harter, the father; Helen, the mother; and Susan the daughter will be shown by the Palos Verdes Community Arts Association at the Library Gallery in Palos Verdes opening on April 7th and closing on May 4th, 1951.

Harter will lecture at 8:00 p.m., April 19th in the gallery on the subject "How the Painter Creates a Personal Technique." The lecturer will demonstrate as he talks, which should prove to be of unusual interest to the general public as well as to the student of art.

Tom J. Harter, now a resident of Redondo Beach, is on sabbatical leave from Arizona State College in Tempe where he is Associate Professor of Art. He attended High School in Los Angeles and studied art at professional art schools there and at the Art Students League and Grand Central School of Art in New York City.

Dichondra Solves Lawn Mowing Problem Once and for All . . .

Substitute dichondra for grass and you will never have to mow the lawn! Furthermore, the lawn will look prettier, and you will be subject to fewer pests.

"But dichondra is so expensive?" you may protest. Perhaps you think so from remembering old prices which were as high as two flats for $5.00 and a flat did not go very many feet. And, in those days, the dichondra was a bit weak. But that is all over now. The new strain of dichondra is robust and it grows like a weed.

The cost is low, but you can get hooked on quality and price if you do not look out. Some inferior grades of dichondra are full of weed seeds, are low in germination. However, there are places where you can buy enough superior seed for 250 square feet of lawn for only $1.00.

The average "front lawn" is about 1000 square feet. Enough seed to cover that area may be obtained from some of the Home and Garden advertisers for $3.50 postpaid.

If you have trouble finding the names of such dealers, please drop a line to O. A. Fleener, 97-31 East Rose Avenue, Bellflower, California, for dealer nearest you.

Dichondra may be put in now. The expected winter rains will help the seed get a good start before the hotter spring days.

Hydrangeas will continue to bloom for weeks if pots are kept wet enough. If allowed to become too dry, revive the plant by setting the pot in water overnight in a cool place. Hydrangeas like shade and make attractive summer blooming shrubs in the garden. Give them plenty of room to develop.
